Paleopathology Association

Dear Sir/Madame,

I have the honor to announce that Universidad del Magdalena has decided to organize the next Paleopathology Association Meeting in South America-PAMINSA V. The University, engaged with academic excellence and quality, will host researchers from all over the world who will share the last advances in the field.

The Association has invited Professor Claudia Rojas-Sepúlveda, Ph. D. to organize the conference and she has extended the invitation to lecturer Astrid Perafán, Ph. D. candidate. The University supports our professor's participation and backs it with staff in charge of different logistics led by Professor Fabio Silva Vallejo.

We are looking forward to host you in our Campus in Santa Marta on August 2013.

With kind regards.

Pedro Eslava Eljaiek, M.Sc

Academic Vice Rector with Delegated Functions Rectory
